THE FIGHT FOR RETRENCHMENT

THE cause of business administration and tax reduction in Oregon must be kept up in the interest of industrial and community development, and will largely depend on the character of the legislature.

The battle for reduced taxation has been waged so warmly by the state press that nearly every candidate for the legislature is elected on a platform pledged to retrenchment and cutting out grafts. While this feeling is stronger than ever before, the need of real leadership in the organization of both houses of the general assembly is imperative if any appreciable result is obtained.

For instance, the higher educational interests of the state for the present biennial period are getting $1,919,532.46 from the taxpayers, and will make demands for larger sums for 1917-18. This interest, backed by a powerful organization all over the state, was able to get $335,103.63 more than all the other state institutions, and will give all other sections liberal slices from the state pork barrel.

These and other large interests will doubtless try to capture the speakership and the presidency of the senate, and then the taxpayers, instead of getting the promised reductions, will have larger bills to meet.

The State Taxpayers League, an organization pledged to secure material scaling down of tax levies, is backing a tax limitation measure by initiative, but that would not prevent large appropriations.

The state tax levy for 1914 was $4,165,000. For 1915 this was cut to $3,112,000. For 1916 this was further cut to $2,500,000. The fight for retrenchment is vital and is the biggest issue.

EIGHT THOUSAND DOCTORS
IN PUBLIC HEALTH PARADE

United Press Service
DETROIT, Mich., June 12.—Marking the close of the American Medical Association's sixty-seventh annual convention, Detroit today will celebrate "Public Health Day" with some 8,000 visiting physicians participating in the ceremonies. The feature of the day will be a public health parade, in which banners on more than a hundred gigantic floats will preach the doctrine of right living.

The parade, which will be one of the most novel ever seen here, will be staged under the direction of the state board of health, co-operating with officers of the American Medical Association. Of the various floats, twelve will be furnished by Detroit women's clubs, nine by the city recreation commission, twelve by the state board of health, nine by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society and five by medical colleges.

American Army's Machine Guns
Not Quite the Thing for War

MACHINE GUN DETACHMENT OF SIXTEENTH U. S. INFANTRY

Has the United States made a colossal mistake in its selection of machine gun for use of its troops? Army officials and others say so, and the result is that a big investigation is to be made, which may result in the adoption of an entirely new type of rapid fire ordnance for use with infantry and cavalry.

Ever since the border raids and subsequent expedition into Mexico, there has been persistent complaint that the type of gun now in use fails to work when needed. The official report of the raid of Villistas at Columbus, N.M., says the machine guns were all rendered useless after firing a very few shots, and the same report is heard in connection with the skirmishes fought with the bandit bands as Pershing's forces moved southward. The gun now used is extremely light, and is therefore easily transported. It also shoots the regulation army rifle ammunition, making an extra ammunition carrier unnecessary. But the gun, say army men, owing to the faulty feed system prepared, jams easily, and is invariably useless after a few rounds of ammunition are fired under actual battle conditions.

SAN FRANCISCO'S WOMAN ASSISTANT FEDERAL DISTRICT ATTORNEY PROVES EFFECTIVE IN OFFICIAL WORK

United Press Service
SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Mrs. Annette Adams, whose appointment as assistant United States attorney caused excitement in officialdom in Washington and San Francisco, has made good.

While here on a visit, Federal Judge Elledge of Los Angeles went out of his way to pay his respects to the federal prosecutor and tell her he was sorry he had opposed her appointment. "I have got to take off my hat to you," said Judge Elledge.

"You have made good, and never again will I refuse to endorse a woman in any capacity."

During the bomb sensation in San Francisco Mrs. Adams worked night and day and prevented an important indictment from being quashed on account of technical errors. Mrs. Adams is distinctively feminine, not only in her personal mannerisms and attributes, but in her methods of procedure in the court room. Her personality gives the austere chambers a "home" atmosphere. She presents her arguments quietly, but with great fidelity to the essentials.

During the absence of District Attorney Preston, Mrs. Adams directed the affairs of the office without a hitch. Her handling of the United States neutrality cases especially won admiration.

OIL MACADAM FOR ELEVENTH

BID OF WARREN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY IS ACCEPTED BY THE COUNCIL ON YARDAGE BASIS. U. S. STRETCH ELIMINATED

Eleventh street is to be paved with oil macadam. This is to be laid by the Warren Construction company.

The council last night decided upon this type of pavement, and the mayor was instructed to enter into a contract with the Warren concern for the improving this street on a yardage basis.

This makes it possible to eliminate the street in front of the reclamation service buildings. This being government property, no lien can be placed against it, so the construction company can make its own arrangements with the government regarding that particular piece of work.

Sixth British Airmen Now
Honored by the Nation

By WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 12.—Six new names were written today on England's newest honor list—the aerial gallantry roll.

As a result, six medals of the distinguished service order or the military cross has been awarded to members of the Royal Flying corps for a type of gallantry unknown before the present war.

One of the birdmen newly honored is Lieutenant Malcolm Henderson, seaforth highlanders, who lost a leg by shell fire at an altitude of 7,000 feet. Despite his injury he succeeded in maneuvering his machine from above the enemy's lines to a place of safety behind the British lines, thus saving his aeroplane, his life and the life of his observer.

Lieutenant Frank Hudson, eighteen, was severely wounded in the head while on reconnaissance duty flying over the German lines. He clung to consciousness until he had piloted his aeroplane to a place of safety and then fainted. On previous occasions he had brought down two enemy machines.

"For conspicuous gallantry and skill" is the official worded announcement of honor for Captain J. E. Tennant, Scots guards, who effected a night bombing of an enemy aviation shed. He shut off his engine, descended to within thirty feet of the objective and dropped his bombs. Although the explosion damaged his machine, he restarted the engine and escaped only to request another machine on his return with which to repeat the operation.

Lieutenants Thomas Howe and Edward Leggett, in the same machine, merited decorations for downing two enemy machines during a single flight. After dispatching the first they winged to a higher altitude and engaged the second. Both enemies were downed by machine gun fire.

A number of conspicuous feats are attached to the record of Lieutenant Henry Yates, the last named on the official honor roll. His outstanding accomplishment was the destruction of an enemy water works under terrific fire.

With anti-aircraft guns roaring and a company of infantry firing on him he brought his machine down to within 600 feet and launched his bomb. It dropped in the center of the water works destroying it. He then intrepidly attacked the infantry with his machine gun and routed it.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

SAYS GLASS OF HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST WASHES POISONS FROM SYSTEM

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.—adv
